Aragona-Pembroke Scouts Kept Busy

The Court of Honor ceremonies highlighted the August meeting of Aragona-Pembroke Troop 428. Three candles were lit representing the Boy Scout promise, while an even dozen lighted candles represented the laws of the Scouts.

Scoutmaster Bill Pettys relieved Scoutmaster Donald McAdams of the troop. Pettys presented McAdams with a thank you plaque for his scouting leadership and all wished him "God Speed" on his duty assignment with the Marines in Viet Nam.

The parents were told of their responsibilities to the Scouts and the great need of parent participation to making scouting successful in the troop. Scouting is fun! It has a purpose in teaching the boys to grow in citizenship, character building and physical fitness.

Hard work on the Scouts part produced these awards and advancements: Star rank and senior patrol leader, Stanley Baddon; assistant senior patrol leader, Steven McAdams; Eagle Scout instructor badge, Roger Davis; first class rank to Harlen Pettys, Beau Woods and Dennis Kidd.

Second class rank to Greg White, Mark Hysong, Bill Jennings and Joseph Geiger. Tenderfoot rank to Randy Griffin and Michael Perron. Merit badges were awarded to Steven Beatty and Donald Crawford for "rowing"; Dennis Kidd received "citizenship in home" and "citizenship in community." The new patrol leaders are Joe Geiger and Bill Jennings.

Troop 429 is sponsored by the Aragona - Pembroke Lions Club and meets at Old Donation Episcopal Church, 7:30 p.m. every Tuesday. All boys interested in scouting are welcome to attend and asked to bring a parent.

Contest Winners Announced

Social Planned

Mrs. Nelson Moore beamed as she received first place prize of $75.00 in the Pembroke Meadows Green Thumb Contest. Awards were announced August 12, at the civic league meeting.

Lou Lucente of the Terry Corporation of Va. spoke briefly before the awards were presented, saying, "I'm proud of you people in the Meadows and the way you have landscaped your property, making it the beautiful community it is."

Lucente introduced Mrs. Shirley S. Barondess, Director of Public Relations for the Terry Corp., who awarded the prizes. Second place prize of $50.00 went to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horvatic and third place prize, $25.00, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kraft.

Mrs. Diane Mead, past president and charter member of the Pembroke Manor Garden Club, told the group that in 1963 it was the Terry Corp. that started their Green Thumb Contest, and that this was their 7th annual contest, awarding fifty prizes for each block in their area. Mrs. Mead commended the Terry Corp. for their continued support.

C. C. Taylor introduced Mrs. Pearl Bunton, president of the Pembroke Manor Garden Club, who will be assisting the women at the Meadows in organizing their garden club.

MRS. NELSON MOORE

Mrs. Bunton said that aside from providing valuable yard-care information for the members, much money can be saved in making flower arrangements, particularly at holiday time.

Glen McClanan, president of the Virginia Beach Council of Civic Organizations, detailed to the gathering the many reasons for belonging to the local council. McClanan said, "The league's prime purpose is to help organize leagues and assist residential subdivisions in providing activities for member organizations, to unite the community in bonds of friendship and to create educational and interesting programs."

Mrs. Pat Powell, program chairman, announced a community social will be held at 3:00 p.m. on Sept. 20, at Old Donation Church grounds. "All you can eat" of clams, oysters, hamburgers and sodas, at just $1.25 for adults and fifty cents for children.

WHAT IS EXTENSION?

By INGRID TIFENBERG

Today's homemaker faces constant decisions - what to buy, how to budget the family income, care for the children, stretch her time and energy to cover everything that must be done.

She seeks reliable, unbiased information to help her with her job. Extension home economists supply sound facts based on scientific research from university and government sources.

The modern homemaker also searches beyond the home horizon. She wants to understand the problems of her community, her Nation, and the world. Home Economists in Extension programs give her learning opportunities that make her a better citizen as well as a wiser homemaker.

Extension Home Economics is an adult education program for the homemaker. It reflects the needs of contemporary living, with emphasis on consumer education, management and family economics.

It is the home economist in the county Extension office who carries this educational program to homemakers. She is professionally trained, holds a college degree and may be studying for another. She also gets information from specialists located at her State land-grant university. These specialists are trained in nutrition, family economics, home management, housing and home furnishings, clothing and textiles, human relations, child development, and other fields.

The Extension home economists reaches the homemaker and her family with an educational program designed to reflect their needs at different stages of the life cycle. In planning the program, the county home economist consults with community leaders to learn their views on local problems and needs. Thus the program varies, from place to place, from age group to age group, from one income group to another, depending on the problems to be solved through the educational program.

Extension programs fall into the following broad areas: consumer education, management, housing and home furnishings, child development and human relations, clothing and nutrition education.

Do you have any questions you would like to have answered? Please visit, phone or write your Extension office, City Hall, Building 12, telephone 427-4611.

Napolitano Nominated

The National Association of Home Builders has nominated Frederick J. Napolitano, a principal of the Terry Corporation of Virginia for a 1970 vice-presidency of the organization.

Napolitano has always taken an interest in building industry affairs, has served as a past president of both the Tidewater Association of Home Builders, and the Home Builders Association of Va. A Life Director of the National Association of Home Builders, Napolitano served on the 1969 nominating and tax study committee.

To better serve the industry, Mr. Napolitano feels that one must contribute fully to the local, state and national home builders organizations.

Equally involved in civic activities, Mr. Napolitano is on the Board of Trustees, St. Mary's Infants' Home; member of the Virginia Advisory Legislative Committee and one of the Directors of Virginia Beach Beautification committee and Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce.

The election of officers will take place in January at the 26th Annual Convention in Houston, Texas. If elected, Napolitano will represent the states of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia.

Leadership

Needed

Adult leadership is urgently needed at Pembroke Manor if the Cadette, Juniors and Brownie Girl Scout troops are to continue.

Much effort has been put into organizing the present groups and without the cooperation of parents serving as leaders, consultants, assistants for all necessary phases of the program, the scouts that are already in groups will eventually disband.

This call of help has been sent out by Mrs. Ardell Rima, the troop organizer. Interested residents of Pembroke Manor are asked to call 497-8875 and offer their assistance.

While playing in the garage, Michael Humphries noticed a strange, long piece of cord. Naturally he pulled at it, probably expecting to find some wonderful treasure attached to the other end. It turned out to be the ripcord of a parachute. The parachute will have to be repacked, but Michael's dad can handle that since he is with the Seal Team of the U.S.N. From what Petty Officer First Class and Mrs. Humphries of Brookwood, told us about their young one's antics, we could fill an entire page.

FREDDIE, 'the friendly agent' says . . . . .

"Everybody complains about cost but very few do anything about it. Your insurance program is one way to cut cost by purchasing wisely."

Example: "I purchased a home and assumed the previous owners home insurance. After closing I found myself paying $74.00 a year for the coverage he had purchased. It seems he had insured a boat under liability on his home policy but I don't own a boat. After changing the coverage I saved $30.00 a year or $30.00 per month on my house payment."

The Garden Spot

By DIANE MEADS

Hi! Hope this column will be of help to you now and in the future months. If you should have a particular gardening question, I'll be glad to help. Call me at 497-4141.

Fall's on the way, there's lots to do before we get a winter rest.

This month you can order spring-blooming bulbs to be planted in October and November. Besides tulips, crocus, hyacinths and daffodils why not try some new and interesting bulbs. Scillas, only a few inches tall are vivid blue and bloom at crocus and forsythia time. They're self sowing, increase rapidly.

Glory-of-the-snow are five inches tall, have several blooms on each stem and are a brilliant blue with white centers. There are also pink and white varieties.

Lilies can be planted now. Crowded perennials such as daylilies, daisies, peonies and pinks can be divided and reset this month. Cut back scraggly annuals to encourage late bloom.

The end of this month will be perfect for sowing rye grass seed over your lawn. In bare spots, loosen soil by scratching before seeding and KEEP WATERING! Continue spraying roses until they're dormant. Dig and store dahlia and canna bulbs after the first frost. Begonias and glads before frost. Sharpen up that shovel...next month is shrub and tree planting time!
